

IP-100RM

Remote Microphone

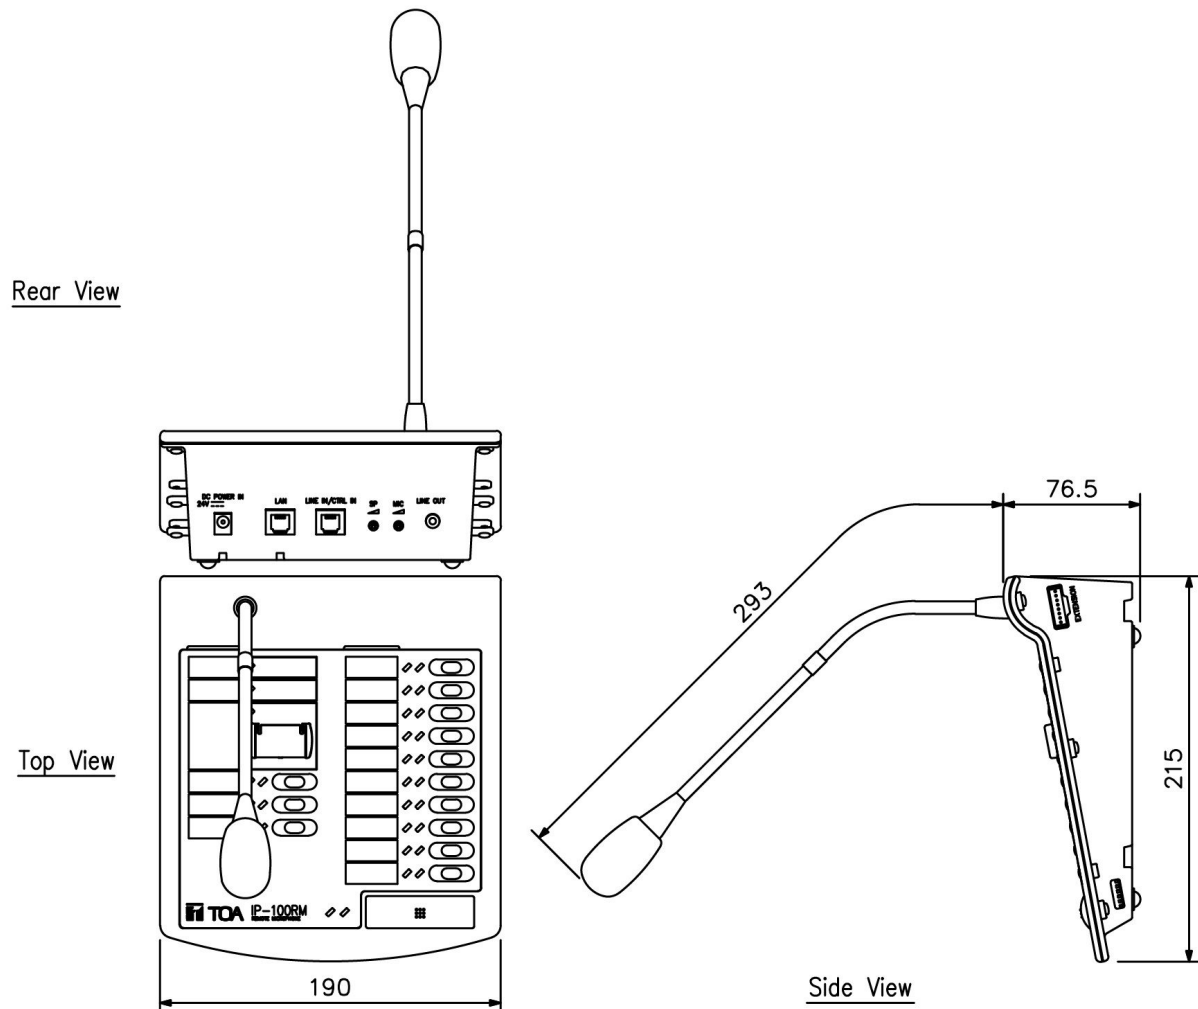

IP-100RM IP remote control microphone is an IP remote microphone, it is used for general and emergency broadcast. It can receive broadcasting from server or other devices, and it also can initiate one zone or all zones broadcast, every key has the corresponding working status indicator, you can quickly obtain the working status of every zone and server through the working status indicator.

Key features

- #IR-100RM is a network remote microphone. It can be used for general broadcast and emergency broadcast.
- #The microphone can receive messages from server or other devices. It can also distribute these messages to selected zone or all zones.
- #Status LED next to every button allows operator to acquire status of each zone and other operation status at one glance.
- #Can support Max. 1000 zoning

Specifications

Dimensions

UNIT:mm SCALE:1/4